

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

On Friday night the 13th, the teacher training students will give at the high school auditorium, a play entitled "Princess Kiku," a Japanese romance which they have prepared under the direction of Miss Veercamp. Good music will precede and intersperse the program. An admission fee will be charged and we hope to have a large audience. The characters will be announced next week in the school notes.

We wish to say for the information of those who may not know that we arrange our assemblies as best suits. Usually we mean to promote the interests of our students in public speaking, music and other talent. This we consider as much benefit to the students as some other phases of the school work.

The students of the high school building not only displayed flags on the day Congress met in special session but the flags were much in evidence the entire week. The grade rooms seem to have secured them before the rush and have their rooms especially well decorated in the colors and also with many patriotic gems from literature which they have written on the blackboards. The flag display for the date on which Congress met was asked for by the State Superintendent of schools.

SENIOR CLASS ENTERTAINED AT EGG ROAST

Friday evening Miss Jeanne Bounous, at her home, south of town, entertained the class of '17 of which she is a member. The class met at 6:30 and walked to the Bounous farm first stopping at the grove that has been the scene of similar occurrences.

A bonfire served to prepare the first stage of the evening's pleasure. Later the party repaired to the immense loft of the new barn, where a hunt for candy eggs was instituted and rewarded. A rope swing suspended from the highest part of the rafters was not neglected nor long empty. A pile of straw on one side tempted the boys to gymnastic feats.

Before anybody realized how the time was passing the crowd was conducted to the house where Mrs. Bounous, assisted by Miss Naomi Bounous, served a bountiful lunch. Various members of the party contributed musical numbers. All too soon the hands of the clock pointed an hour beyond which to stay would become an intrusion. Arthur Bounous, accompanied by Miss Jeanne, brought the party to town on a hay wagon. It would be hard to decide what part of the evening was the most delightful.

Those attending were: Misses Mamie Counts, Ruby Lane, Eva Dunigan, Mildred Callaway, Grace Greathouse, Zella Hicks, Stella Tracy, Blanche McClure, Nellie Lloyd, Eleanor Thomas, Mary Finch, Ruth Farrow, Viola McFadden, Marie Peters, Esther Arnaud, Martha Bounous, Jeanne Bounous, Nellie Mills and Delia Perry; Messrs Kenneth Wright, George Miller, Byron Vaughan, LeRoy Coward, Walter Ackerson, Russell Cole, Harold Lewis, Earl Hobbs, Arthur Bounous, who is at home from Drury college to spend his Easter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sater and daughter Ruth, visited relatives in Cassville, Saturday.

Mrs. M. Turner and daughter, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner returned to their home in Bartlesville, Okla., Saturday.

MONETT TAKES PART IN PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATION

Big Parade of School Children, Headed by the Republic Band is Afternoon. Speeches at Night.

Monett showed her patriotism Thursday, by a lavish display of the stars and stripes, parade by the school children and a mass meeting at night.

Every flag in town was put to use. No noisy demonstration was made, the occasion being considered a serious one, rather than a celebration.

The Republic band arrived on the morning train played on the street corners during the forenoon. In the afternoon they marched to the high school building and headed a procession of school children, bearing flags. They marched through the principal streets of the town and made an interesting showing.

In the evening the citizens gathered in a mass meeting at the Deer auditorium. The band was present at the opening but had to leave to catch their train for home.

The meeting was presided over by Mayor W. J. Fleming, who introduced the speakers. Two high school boys, Hardy Kemp and LeRoy Coward gave patriotic speeches which were well received by the crowd.

H. H. Koontz made a beautiful patriotic address, which raised the enthusiasm of the audience to a high pitch.

He was followed by I. V. McPherson of Aurora, who gave a masterly presentation of the crisis now before the American people.

Loyalty to the United States government and President Wilson was the keynote of the meeting and the spirit was entered into heartily by the citizens of the town.
